Waterford Teacher Named SHAPE-2019 Teacher of the Year

WATERFORD, Mich. – Ann Reiche, physical education teacher at Cooley, Donelson Hills and Haviland elementary schools, was recently named the SHAPE-MI 2019 Teacher of the Year. Nominated by her physical education colleagues, Reiche was selected for this honor because of her instructional innovation and her commitment to excellence.

“Ann is a life-long resident and has taught in the Waterford School District for over 30 years,” said Superintendent Scott Lindberg. “Our students are truly fortunate to have such a high-caliber teacher that is dedicated to their health and success.”

SHAPE is the Society of Health and Physical Educators, whose mission is to advance professional practice and promote research related to health and physical education, physical activity, dance and sports. SHAPE honors one elementary teacher every year for their contributions to this mission, and the Waterford School District acknowledges Reiche for this marvelous achievement.

Reiche was recently honored at a Waterford School District Board of Education meeting and she will be recognized at the SHAPE-MI Annual Conference in Lansing on November 7, 2019.
